

The Richmond Climax.

A. C. CHENAUET, Proprietor and Editor.
J. H. MILLER, Associate Editor.
WEDNESDAY, JAN. 18, 1900.

PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY BY The Climax Printing Co.

PRICE PER YEAR, $1.50.

ANNOUNCEMENT

FOR AUDITOR.
We are authorized to announce JOHN B. CHENAUET, of Madison county, a candidate for the office of State Auditor, subject to the action of the Democratic State Convention.

McKINLEY did not side step quick enough to avoid the blows of Hon. Mason, Vest and Bryan.

The Stanford Journal was one of the few papers in this section to give space to the great Chicago speech of Mr. Bryan.

Mr. FIFIELD, of Vermont, in refusing a Senatorship probably had in mind Quay and Hanna, and concluded it was better to keep out of bad company.

As we remarked last week the Republican leaders realize that Imperialism means the knocking of some jagged holes in the Chinese high tariff wall.

Where are the imperialists, expansionists, or colonists? Where is McKinley, George Davison and Tom Adams? The latter two are still true to their guns, but the rest have retreated—gone out of the rain.

Don't you ever see a well-meaning old lady in a zoological garden, say "poor pussy" and attempt to stroke the wild cat in the cage? When the American attempt to take charge of the Philippines they will have a whole nation of wild cats on their hands.—Gen. Forester's Free Press (Republican).

The southern people would thank President McKinley to let the confederate dead alone. If he desires to do something of benefit to the country, let him cut the graves of the Federal dead and cut off the pensions of all soldiers who have been buried over twenty-five years.—Cynthiana Democrat.

The current issue of Life, New York, contains a cartoon that tells a story. A Filipino man and a Hawaiian woman are standing under an American flag, guarded by a soldier. A blanket Indian, a liquor bottle labeled "civilization" protruding from his pocket, points to the pair and says, "I see your finish."

An exchange recently remarks that "Sampson's daughter married last week, and this time the Admiral was present at the engagement."—Greenup Gazette.

The exchange is wrong. Admiral Sampson was present at the surrender, just as he was at Cervera's. The engagement was some time before—Cynthiana Democrat.

In This The President's Policy, it is impliedly asked the Commercial Tribune. No, it is not the President's policy—it is somebody else's policy, for Mr. McKinley had two policies, one a life insurance policy, the other his stroke to catch the South through the ex-Confederates. He is a President without a policy. Else the Commercial Tribune would not be asking its questions at this late date.

The Silver Night Watchman, the greatest exponent of Democracy in America, with the view of obtaining the sentiment of the party as to the choice for our standard-bearer in 1900, has addressed letters to the members of the National Democratic Committee from each of the States and Territories. The replies are almost unanimous for our great leader, William J. Bryan, and for the Chicago platform.

It makes us feel mighty good to see Col. James W. Caperton's name mentioned favorably for governor. In these days of wool-pulling, wire-pulling and flitting-slinging, it would be a great relief to see a man nominated against whom absolutely nothing mean or disrespectful could be said. Let the Republicans nominate Colonel Caperton, the Democrats select an equally clean man and let them have more race run on that high plane which our grand-fathers brag of having in their day.—Lancaster Record.

C. F. Brower & Co.,
LEXINGTON, KY.

A Ringing Message

Full of Seasonable, Sensible Hints for the home and its comforts.—We have beautified many parlors during the last few weeks and have't many suits left. Here are a few of them:

At $19.00 A 3-piece maline frame, covered in tansy, beautiful decoration on back—that was $27.50.

At $32.50 A 6-piece maline frame, covered in tansy, beautiful decoration on back—that was $45.00.

At $40.00 A 5-piece overstuffed suit in Damask.

1-3 Off on All Odd Chairs.

This is an annual event—every year in January we sell off the odd pieces. You can buy them very cheap.

SPECIAL BARGAINS—This week in Extension Tables and Sideboards.

C. F. Brower & Co.,
LEXINGTON, KY.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. B. H. Neale is suffering from an attack of grippe.

Mrs. Richard Miller is visiting in Huntville, Ala.

Hon. Tyler Barnett, of Louisville, is here attending court.

Miss Hood, of Lebanon, is the guest of Mrs. I. S. Irvine.

Miss Lottie Farris has returned after a visit to Lawrenceburg.

Mr. James Davis was in Louisville several days last week.

Mr. Jake Collins returned Saturday from a business trip to the mountains.

Judge Becker, of Winchester, is in the city attending court.

Mrs. Walters left yesterday for Louisville to be gone several days.

Miss Birdie Zaring is at home from a delightful visit to Georgetown.

Miss Sue Howe will visit Miss Eather Barnett at Frankfort next week.

Mrs. Mary Herndon Logan is quite ill of pneumonia at the Glyndon.

The Ladies Musical Club was entertained by Miss Lynn last Wednesday.

Mr. C. E. Smith returned Sunday from a business trip to the mountains.

Mr. Norris, representing Hickman & Co., of Louisville, was in the city Friday.

Mr. Lay Moffet is spending several days with his brother, Harry Moffet, at C. U.

Hon. C. J. Branstetter is in the city on legal business and will remain several days.

Mr. Robert Thornton, a prominent Lexington lawyer, was in the city last week.

Mr. James Blanton, of Winchester, is spending the week here, attending court.

Miss Anna McKenna, of Lexington, was the guest last week of Miss Annie McKee.

Mr. and Mrs. William Boone, of Louisville, are the guests of Mrs. J. Stone Walker.

Mr. Spreaty, a wealthy New York doctor, was in town Tuesday buying horses.

Misses Mary Little and Julia Higgins are the guests of Miss Sprinkle, of Culpepper, Va.

Mrs. C. E. Smith returned Saturday from a two weeks visit to friends at Nicholasville.

Miss Mattie Bosley, of Stanford, is the guest of Dr. H. C. Jasper and wife, on Broadway.

Miss Jennie McCormack has returned to Point Lick after a visit to friends in South Carolina.

Mrs. L. Shelby Irvine entertained at dinner on last Wednesday in honor of her sister, Miss Hood.

Miss Laura Lynn will leave Friday for Tenn., where she will spend the remainder of the winter.

We are glad to see Mrs. Eugenia Hume and family at their old home on Lancaster avenue again.

Mr. J. W. Smith left Tuesday the 10th for Benoit, Miss., to attend the sale of James Richardson, deceased.

Miss Kate Blanton will leave shortly for Montgomery, Alabama, to be the guest of Miss Annie Pearson.

Mrs. Laura Thompson, of Mt. Sterling, arrived yesterday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Neale Bennett.

Mr. Jess Beasley, of Bourbon county, was the guest of his brother, Mr. R. N. Beasley, of Point Lick, last week.

Dr. Giles Harris and wife, of Missouri, who have been visiting friends here, have moved to Speedwell to live.

Mr. T. E. Baldwin, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Brittain, at Annapolis, Md., returned home last Friday.

The Stanford Journal was the presence in that place of Rev. I. B. Timberlake, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Lytle.

Hon. James D. Black and W. R. Black, of Barbourville, are in this city.

James D. Black is the uncle of Attorney S. R. B. Black, of this city.

Miss Olivia Baldwin will leave next week for Annapolis, where she will spend the remainder of the winter with her sister, Mrs. C. B. Brittain.

Mr. S. Deatherage has sold his farm on Tates Creek and moved to town. He says he is at home to his friends, on the corner of 7th and High street.

Mr. Green Clay, of Cincinnati, was welcomed here on a brief stay last week. He is practicing law in the Queen City, and is succeeding nicely.

Mrs. Bettie Chenault and daughter, Miss Emily, left last Tuesday for Washington where they will spend the remainder of the winter and the spring months.

The second of a series of dances to be given by the G. T. Cotton Club will take place at the Masonic Temple Friday evening. Quite a number of invitations have been sent out and it promises to be a brilliant affair.

Fifty of Richmond representative men met at Mr. Rhodes Shackelford's office Thursday evening for the purpose of organizing a German Club.

R. W. Miller was made president, and the first of the series will occur early next month.

Mrs. C. D. Chenault was hostess at an informal luncheon, Thursday, those present: Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Shackelford, Mrs. John White, Mrs. J. W. Smith, Mrs. J. W. Caperton, Mrs. Thomas Phelps, Miss Hood and Mrs. I. Shelby Irvine.

Miss Willis, of Richmond, is visiting her brother, Dr. T. N. Willis and family. Miss May Escott has returned from a delightful visit to Miss Blanton at Richmond. Miss Escott will leave in a few days for Greenville, Miss., to spend the balance of the winter.—Shelby Democrat.

Dr. D. L. Ringo, of New York, has been extensively entertained during his visit to various friends in this city. Dr. Ringo is a great social favorite in both New York and Lexington.—Lexington Herald.

Dr. Ringo succeeds Dr. Ed Wines as prescriptionist at Douglas & West drug store.

Dr. R. M. Phelps, who has practiced medicine here the past year and made many friends during his sojourn, has decided to move to Paducah, where he will form a partnership with Dr. Cicero Eulank, formerly of this county.—Stanford Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Waters, the artists, are now at Richmond. They are first class people, and the citizens of Richmond will take their work.

Judge J. Q. Ward, of Bourbon, will, we understand, soon go to the City of Mexico for the benefit of his health.—Cynthiana Democrat.

Mr. Fred A. Miller, the bustling cigar manufacturer of Richmond, was in the city yesterday looking after business interests. He makes only the finest brands and they have acquired a big reputation for their general excellence. See his announcement in this paper and give the goods a trial.—Winchester Democrat.

Stanford has a genuine "Cyrano de Bergerac" in the person of John M. McRoberts. If you don't believe it, look at his nose since a bull has got the better of it.—Mrs. John A. Haldeman.

Miss Jean Buchanan and John and Burch Buchanan, grand children, and Miss Jean Bruce Haldeman, great grand daughter of Mrs. Sallie Ann Higgins, came up from Louisville to attend her burial.—Stanford Journal.

Friends of Mr. James B. Deatherage and Miss Daisy Russell Campbell will be greatly surprised with this, the first public announcement of their engagement. They will be married next Wednesday, Jan. 25, at 12:30 p. m., at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Harriett Campbell, on Fifth street.

The attendants will be Miss Mary Campbell and Mr. Sam Bates. Rev. Jasper K. Smith will probably perform the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Deatherage will leave on a bridal tour.

MARRIED.

FORBES-BARNES.—Cassius M. Forbes and Mrs. Talitha Barnes were married yesterday at 5 p. m., at Will Barnes', near Red House, Rev. S. A. Owen officiating. The bride is an excellent lady, widow of James Barnes. The groom is a faithful citizen, well liked, sober and industrious. They will live on Al Williams' farm near Red House.

About The Electric Lights.

Superintendent Frank H. Adair informs the CLIMAX that he will run the dynamos day and night, supplying not only light at all times but power for running machinery of all kinds.

The incandescent lights, each of which will be of 16-candle power, will cost one cent each per hour during use, one light being abundant for each private apartment. It is understood that it will cost practically little or nothing to "wire" a house so that the new light may be cheaply and quickly introduced anywhere.

The work of erecting poles has begun, and we understand, for the present two hundred and twenty will be put up. The novelty of "arc" lights will also be witnessed as soon as the plant can be erected, in about ninety days. The Council has ordered two of these 1200-candle power "arc" lights to be suspended on Main street, in front of court square, one at First street the other at Second.

Mr. Adair says he has every assurance of success, and that he will not only have abundant light and power for all who may apply, but that he expects the dentists to operate their lithes, seamstresses their machines, printing offices their papers, etc., etc., by the electric power which he will furnish as cheap as it is supplied in Cincinnati.

All his people like him very much and he predicts the electric power will be as cheap as it is supplied in Cincinnati.

We are glad to see Mrs. Eugenia Hume and family at their old home on Lancaster avenue again.

Mr. J. W. Smith left Tuesday the 10th for Benoit, Miss., to attend the sale of James Richardson, deceased.

Miss Kate Blanton will leave shortly for Montgomery, Alabama, to be the guest of Miss Annie Pearson.

Mrs. Laura Thompson, of Mt. Sterling, arrived yesterday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Neale Bennett.

Mr. Jess Beasley, of Bourbon county, was the guest of his brother, Mr. R. N. Beasley, of Point Lick, last week.

Dr. Giles Harris and wife, of Missouri, who have been visiting friends here, have moved to Speedwell to live.

Mr. T. E. Baldwin, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Brittain, at Annapolis, Md., returned home last Friday.

The Stanford Journal was the presence in that place of Rev. I. B. Timberlake, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Lytle.

Hon. James D. Black and W. R. Black, of Barbourville, are in this city.

James D. Black is the uncle of Attorney S. R. B. Black, of this city.

Miss Olivia Baldwin will leave next week for Annapolis, where she will spend the remainder of the winter with her sister, Mrs. C. B. Brittain.

Mr. S. Deatherage has sold his farm on Tates Creek and moved to town. He says he is at home to his friends, on the corner of 7th and High street.

Mr. Green Clay, of Cincinnati, was welcomed here on a brief stay last week. He is practicing law in the Queen City, and is succeeding nicely.

Mrs. Bettie Chenault and daughter, Miss Emily, left last Tuesday for Washington where they will spend the remainder of the winter and the spring months.

The second of a series of dances to be given by the G. T. Cotton Club will take place at the Masonic Temple Friday evening. Quite a number of invitations have been sent out and it promises to be a brilliant affair.

Fifty of Richmond representative men met at Mr. Rhodes Shackelford's office Thursday evening for the purpose of organizing a German Club.

R. W. Miller was made president, and the first of the series will occur early next month.

Mrs. C. D. Chenault was hostess at an informal luncheon, Thursday, those present: Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Shackelford, Mrs. John White, Mrs. J. W. Smith, Mrs. J. W. Caperton, Mrs. Thomas Phelps, Miss Hood and Mrs. I. Shelby Irvine.

Miss Willis, of Richmond, is visiting her brother, Dr. T. N. Willis and family. Miss May Escott has returned from a delightful visit to Miss Blanton at Richmond. Miss Escott will leave in a few days for Greenville, Miss., to spend the balance of the winter.—Shelby Democrat.

Dr. D. L. Ringo, of New York, has been extensively entertained during his visit to various friends in this city. Dr. Ringo is a great social favorite in both New York and Lexington.—Lexington Herald.

Dr. Ringo succeeds Dr. Ed Wines as prescriptionist at Douglas & West drug store.

Dr. R. M. Phelps, who has practiced medicine here the past year and made many friends during his sojourn, has decided to move to Paducah, where he will form a partnership with Dr. Cicero Eulank, formerly of this county.—Stanford Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Waters, the artists, are now at Richmond. They are first class people, and the citizens of Richmond will take their work.

Judge J. Q. Ward, of Bourbon, will, we understand, soon go to the City of Mexico for the benefit of his health.—Cynthiana Democrat.

Mr. Fred A. Miller, the bustling cigar manufacturer of Richmond, was in the city yesterday looking after business interests. He makes only the finest brands and they have acquired a big reputation for their general excellence. See his announcement in this paper and give the goods a trial.—Winchester Democrat.

Stanford has a genuine "Cyrano de Bergerac" in the person of John M. McRoberts. If you don't believe it, look at his nose since a bull has got the better of it.—Mrs. John A. Haldeman.

Miss Jean Buchanan and John and Burch Buchanan, grand children, and Miss Jean Bruce Haldeman, great grand daughter of Mrs. Sallie Ann Higgins, came up from Louisville to attend her burial.—Stanford Journal.

Friends of Mr. James B. Deatherage and Miss Daisy Russell Campbell will be greatly surprised with this, the first public announcement of their engagement. They will be married next Wednesday, Jan. 25, at 12:30 p. m., at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Harriett Campbell, on Fifth street.

The attendants will be Miss Mary Campbell and Mr. Sam Bates. Rev. Jasper K. Smith will probably perform the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Deatherage will leave on a bridal tour.

MARRIED.

FORBES-BARNES.—Cassius M. Forbes and Mrs. Talitha Barnes were married yesterday at 5 p. m., at Will Barnes', near Red House, Rev. S. A. Owen officiating. The bride is an excellent lady, widow of James Barnes. The groom is a faithful citizen, well liked, sober and industrious. They will live on Al Williams' farm near Red House.

About The Electric Lights.

Superintendent Frank H. Adair informs the CLIMAX that he will run the dynamos day and night, supplying not only light at all times but power for running machinery of all kinds.

The incandescent lights, each of which will be of 16-candle power, will cost one cent each per hour during use, one light being abundant for each private apartment. It is understood that it will cost practically little or nothing to "wire" a house so that the new light may be cheaply and quickly introduced anywhere.

The work of erecting poles has begun, and we understand, for the present two hundred and twenty will be put up. The novelty of "arc" lights will also be witnessed as soon as the plant can be erected, in about ninety days. The Council has ordered two of these 1200-candle power "arc" lights to be suspended on Main street, in front of court square, one at First street the other at Second.

Mr. Adair says he has every assurance of success, and that he will not only have abundant light and power for all who may apply, but that he expects the dentists to operate their lithes, seamstresses their machines, printing offices their papers, etc., etc., by the electric power which he will furnish as cheap as it is supplied in Cincinnati.

All his people like him very much and he predicts the electric power will be as cheap as it is supplied in Cincinnati.

We are glad to see Mrs. Eugenia Hume and family at their old home on Lancaster avenue again.

Mr. J. W. Smith left Tuesday the 10th for Benoit, Miss., to attend the sale of James Richardson, deceased.

Miss Kate Blanton will leave shortly for Montgomery, Alabama, to be the guest of Miss Annie Pearson.

Mrs. Laura Thompson, of Mt. Sterling, arrived yesterday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Neale Bennett.

Mr. Jess Beasley, of Bourbon county, was the guest of his brother, Mr. R. N. Beasley, of Point Lick, last week.

Dr. Giles Harris and wife, of Missouri, who have been visiting friends here, have moved to Speedwell to live.

Mr. T. E. Baldwin, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Brittain, at Annapolis, Md., returned home last Friday.

The Stanford Journal was the presence in that place of Rev. I. B. Timberlake, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Lytle.

Hon. James D. Black and W. R. Black, of Barbourville, are in this city.

James D. Black is the uncle of Attorney S. R. B. Black, of this city.

Miss Olivia Baldwin will leave next week for Annapolis, where she will spend the remainder of the winter with her sister, Mrs. C. B. Brittain.

Mr. S. Deatherage has sold his farm on Tates Creek and moved to town. He says he is at home to his friends, on the corner of 7th and High street.

Mr. Green Clay, of Cincinnati, was welcomed here on a brief stay last week. He is practicing law in the Queen City, and is succeeding nicely.

Mrs. Bettie Chenault and daughter, Miss Emily, left last Tuesday for Washington where they will spend the remainder of the winter and the spring months.

The second of a series of dances to be given by the G. T. Cotton Club will take place at the Masonic Temple Friday evening. Quite a number of invitations have been sent out and it promises to be a brilliant affair.

Fifty of Richmond representative men met at Mr. Rhodes Shackelford's office Thursday evening for the purpose of organizing a German Club.

R. W. Miller was made president, and the first of the series will occur early next month.

Mrs. C. D. Chenault was hostess at an informal luncheon, Thursday, those present: Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Shackelford, Mrs. John White, Mrs. J. W. Smith, Mrs. J. W. Caperton, Mrs. Thomas Phelps, Miss Hood and Mrs. I. Shelby Irvine.

Miss Willis, of Richmond, is visiting her brother, Dr. T. N. Willis and family. Miss May Escott has returned from a delightful visit to Miss Blanton at Richmond. Miss Escott will leave in a few days for Greenville, Miss., to spend the balance of the winter.—Shelby Democrat.

Dr. D. L. Ringo, of New York, has been extensively entertained during his visit to various friends in this city. Dr. Ringo is a great social favorite in both New York and Lexington.—Lexington Herald.

Dr. Ringo succeeds Dr. Ed Wines as prescriptionist at Douglas & West drug store.

Dr. R. M. Phelps, who has practiced medicine here the past year and made many friends during his sojourn, has decided to move to Paducah, where he will form a partnership with Dr. Cicero Eulank, formerly of this county.—Stanford Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Waters, the artists, are now at Richmond. They are first class people, and the citizens of Richmond will take their work.

Judge J. Q. Ward, of Bourbon, will, we understand, soon go to the City of Mexico for the benefit of his health.—Cynthiana Democrat.

Mr. Fred A. Miller, the bustling cigar manufacturer of Richmond, was in the city yesterday looking after business interests. He makes only the finest brands and they have acquired a big reputation for their general excellence. See his announcement in this paper and give the goods a trial.—Winchester Democrat.

Stanford has a genuine "Cyrano de Bergerac" in the person of John M. McRoberts. If you don't believe it, look at his nose since a bull has got the better of it.—Mrs. John A. Haldeman.

Miss Jean Buchanan and John and Burch Buchanan, grand children, and Miss Jean Bruce Haldeman, great grand daughter of Mrs. Sallie Ann Higgins, came up from Louisville to attend her burial.—Stanford Journal.

Friends of Mr. James B. Deatherage and Miss Daisy Russell Campbell will be greatly surprised with this, the first public announcement of their engagement. They will be married next Wednesday, Jan. 25, at 12:30 p. m., at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Harriett Campbell, on Fifth street.

The attendants will be Miss Mary Campbell and Mr. Sam Bates. Rev. Jasper K. Smith will probably perform the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Deatherage will leave on a bridal tour.

MARRIED.

FORBES-BARNES.—Cassius M. Forbes and Mrs. Talitha Barnes were married yesterday at 5 p. m., at Will Barnes', near Red House, Rev. S. A. Owen officiating. The bride is an excellent lady, widow of James Barnes. The groom is a faithful citizen, well liked, sober and industrious. They will live on Al Williams' farm near Red House.

About The Electric Lights.

Superintendent Frank H. Adair informs the CLIMAX that he will run the dynamos day and night, supplying not only light at all times but power for running machinery of all kinds.

The incandescent lights, each of which will be of 16-candle power, will cost one cent each per hour during use, one light being abundant for each private apartment. It is understood that it will cost practically little or nothing to "wire" a house so that the new light may be cheaply and quickly introduced anywhere.

The work of erecting poles has begun, and we understand, for the present two hundred and twenty will be put up. The novelty of "arc" lights will also be witnessed as soon as the plant can be erected, in about ninety days. The Council has ordered two of these 1200-candle power "arc" lights to be suspended on Main street, in front of court square, one at First street the other at Second.

Mr. Adair says he has every assurance of success, and that he will not only have abundant light and power for all who may apply, but that he expects the dentists to operate their lithes, seamstresses their machines, printing offices their papers, etc., etc., by the electric power which he will furnish as cheap as it is supplied in Cincinnati.

All his people like him very much and he predicts the electric power will be as cheap as it is supplied in Cincinnati.

We are glad to see Mrs. Eugenia Hume and family at their old home on Lancaster avenue again.

Mr. J. W. Smith left Tuesday the 10th for Benoit, Miss., to attend the sale of James Richardson, deceased.

Miss Kate Blanton will leave shortly for Montgomery, Alabama, to be the guest of Miss Annie Pearson.

Mrs. Laura Thompson, of Mt. Sterling, arrived yesterday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Neale Bennett.

Mr. Jess Beasley, of Bourbon county, was the guest of his brother, Mr. R. N. Beasley, of Point Lick, last week.

Dr. Giles Harris and wife, of Missouri, who have been visiting friends here, have moved to Speedwell to live.

Mr. T. E. Baldwin, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Brittain, at Annapolis, Md., returned home last Friday.

The Stanford Journal was the presence in that place of Rev. I. B. Timberlake, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Lytle.

Hon. James D. Black and W. R. Black, of Barbourville, are in this city.

James D. Black is the uncle of Attorney S. R. B. Black, of this city.

Miss Olivia Baldwin will leave next week for Annapolis, where she will spend the remainder of the winter with her sister, Mrs. C. B. Brittain.

Mr. S. Deatherage has sold his farm on Tates Creek and moved to town. He says he is at home to his friends, on the corner of 7th and High street.

Mr. Green Clay, of Cincinnati, was welcomed here on a brief stay last week. He is practicing law in the Queen City, and is succeeding nicely.

Mrs. Bettie Chenault and daughter, Miss Emily, left last Tuesday for Washington where they will spend the remainder of the winter and the spring months.

The second of a series of dances to be given by the G. T. Cotton Club will take place at the Masonic Temple Friday evening. Quite a number of invitations have been sent out and it promises to be a brilliant affair.

Fifty of